See you there!

Zia BOD Meeting Minutes from February 16, 2023

The February 16, 2023 BOD meeting was called to order at 7:01 p.m. at the Bear Canyon Senior Center, with club President Pat Mileshosky presiding. A quorum of the BOD was achieved with 15 out of 20 members in attendance.

Item I - Approval of Agenda and Minutes

The agenda for the February 16, 2023 meeting was approved with three additions (Financial audit report, Tomasi to 2nd VP, Eskey to MAL.)

The minutes from the January 19, 2023 Annual and Special meetings were approved without changes.

Item II - Treasurer's report

Gary Wells, Treasurer presented the Treasurer's Report. He described the activities from the past month including securing a new accounting firm, supporting the audit, and reported on the club's financial status. The Treasurer's Report was approved without changes.

Item III - Old Business

Website Update: Heidi Chowning, 1st VP gave a status update on the efforts for the club to accept credit card payments on the web site. Things are making steady progress towards that goal after overcoming several bumps in the road.

Legislative Update: Heidi then introduced Nate Eskey as the person who has been doing great work attending and testifying to the legislative committees on behalf of the club. He is also the person behind the email blasts our members have been receiving.

Audit Committee Report: Sharon Forman, Audit Committee Chair reported on audit progress, challenges, planned path forward, status (currently no red flags), and requested an additional month to complete the audit and report. A motion was made to grant the additional month, seconded, and passed.

Item IV - New Business

Email Blast System Issue: Heidi Chowning, 1st VP gave a report on something that started happening this past month with iContact. It appears some members' email providers are unenrolling people from the iContact list server without their knowledge. Heidi identified six people who were affected by this and got them re-enrolled. We will be watching this and are working on a capability for BOD members to enroll people as needed.

Ladies Training Program: Heidi then reported that the NRA Foundation partially funded the Ladies Class grant request. NRA funding will cover the ammunition, but not books or range fees. The class should still just break even this year.

Second Vice President: Pat Mileshosky, President asked the BOD to consider Tom Tomasi for the vacant 2nd VP position. A motion was made, seconded, and passed.

Member at Large: Pat then asked the BOD to consider Nate Eskey for the open MAL position. A motion was made, seconded, and passed.

Annual Meeting Attendance: Ron Bjornberg, Action Handgun Chair said he recorded 35 Regular, 26 Senior, 1 Junior, and 4 Associate members being present at the Annual meeting. He also observed that this was only a little less than previous years, indicating the expenditures associated with previous Annual meetings were indeed not really worth it.

Item V - Adjourn

After exhausting all items on the agenda, and there being no further business, the meeting was adjourned at 7:48 p.m. The next BOD meeting will be held on March 16, 2023 starting at 7:00 p.m. at the Bear Canyon Senior Center, 4656 Pitt NE.

Results of the Bench Rest Rifle Silhouette Match March 12, 2023

Not too bad of a turn out, I'd say, considering it is March in New Mexico.

We still had 3 new shooters giving this a try. Piper, Chris and Leonard, hopefully they are hooked now! Weather wasn't too bad, but it was Chilly and rather high winds at the end of the match. But that didn't stop Bryan B. from shooting a 36 with 10 rams in a row. Way to go Bryan!

Thanks to all who came out. Please don't hesitate to call Tom Foreman if you would like to give this a try 505-350-4026.

The bench rest rifle silhouette (formerly known as “Mouse Gun”) match is held on the second Sunday of each month. This coming month (January) the match will be on January 8th (weather permitting).

For those of you that are wondering what we do...

We take a scoped .22 rifle that has plenty of elevation adjustment and shoots long rifle ammo (no stingers or hyper velocity) and we shoot at 1/5 scale targets, whereas the chickens are set a 60 meters and are roughly 2"x2" in size. The pigs which are roughly 3"x4" are set at 100 meters, the turkeys, roughly 3"x5" tall are set at 150, and the rams 6"x4" are at 200 meters. All you need is a sand bag, maybe a bipod, or perhaps a fancy bench rest rig, it doesn't matter as any type of rest is allowed. At the onset of each 15 minute relay, there are unlimited “sighters” at the beginning sighters being shots that are fired at a 8"x11" steel plate set at the same distance at each of the targets. When you are pretty sure that your rifle is sighted in good enough for that bay of targets, the “sighters” stop and you shoot 10 shots in left to right order in what is remaining of the 15 minute time allotment for score.

Relays consist of 10 chickens at 60 meters, 10 pigs at 100 meters, 10 turkeys at 150 meters, and 10 rams at 200 meters. This all done while sitting at a bench. It is a relaxed atmosphere and a ton of fun! A total of 40 rounds are needed for a match plus “sighters”.

Setup starts at 7:30 am. We will have a sight in/practice period starting after set up if possible, and will start the match promptly at 8:00am.

Although it was a beautiful day, I think that some folks were scared away from the match due to the weather that we had experienced in the prior week. There were 10 brave souls that showed up and we had a great time! There were several shooters that got 5 and 10 in a row pins,

Based on the new class structure of the match, Tom F. placed 1st in Master Class, John B. 1st in AAA, Dennis B. 1st in AA, and Tyra M. 1st in A class.

As discussed and decided by all of participants, going forward we will have a class structure so that everyone will be competing against like skilled shooters. This class structure will have no bearing on any classifications or qualifications outside of this specific match. The purpose is to allow everyone a fair chance at competition and provide a structure for advancement.

The matrix for this class structure is:

Master	34	40
AAA	28	33
AA	21	27
A	15	20
B	0	14

The way you advance to the next level is to shoot 3 subsequent scores within the higher range(s).

New shooters will shoot “unclassified” and once a score is recorded, that will be the class in which they will shoot until higher scores move them “up”.

Small Bore Silhouette shooting is one of the most challenging sports for individual marksmanship. Many great shooting competitions offer challenging shots at long range from a bench or other supported position. All our shooting is done from a standing position swaying in whatever breeze there happens to be. We shoot 10 chickens at 40 meters, 10 pigs at 60 meters, 10 turkeys at 77 meters, and 10 rams at 100 meters. A total of 40 rounds are needed for a match plus sight in rounds.

We shoot with .22 rim fire rifles with scopes or open sights. Any standard velocity or high velocity .22 short, long, or long rifle ammo is permitted but the extra hot rounds such as the STINGER or VIPER rounds and magnums are prohibited.

The following information taken from the NRA Silhouette Rifle Rule book and explains the match time sequencing:

Time is not checked on each shot but is computed on the indicated allowance for each five-shot string. The Range Officer may terminate any relay before completion of the full time allowance, if all competitors in that relay have completed firing.

Time Allowances:

Ready Time - Fifteen seconds will be allowed after the command READY is given before the command FIRE.

Two and one half minutes will be allowed to fire one shot on each target of a bank of five targets. Targets are shot in sequential order from left to right.

Alibis - 30 seconds will be allowed for each unfired round of the series in which the alibi is allowed.

Shoot-offs - 30 seconds will be allowed for each shot fired in a shoot off of ties.

A minimum of 30 seconds will be allowed between the command CEASE FIRE and READY.

The small bore rifle silhouette match is held on the first Sunday of each month.

Setup starts at 8:00am. We will have a sight in/practice period starting after set up and will start the match promptly at 9:00am. This event is open to any Zia member/guest and all are welcome. Juniors are encouraged to try this fun and challenging shooting sport.

The adjacent bench rest/plinking range to the immediate West of the Small Bore Rifle Silhouette Range will be closed for the duration of our matches. This will allow us to provide participants with a higher level of safety.

Please note: Although the posted sign states that the range will be closed from 8:00am 2:00pm, as soon as the small bore rifle silhouette match is over, the adjacent range will be open to the public. Historically our matches run no later than noon.

RESULTS OF THE APRIL 600 YARD RIFLE MATCH

Oh joy, spring time in New Mexico...the wind. Fortunately, said wind was reasonable for the April match. 4-5 mph westerly breezes were easy to handle for first 20 round string, scores for most shooters showed this. The breezes turned into 13-15 mph winds which caused problems later in the morning and with only 2 sighter shots allowed for the second string there were some serious comments coming from the shooters but in all honesty it was a good learning experience for some of the newer shooters.

Congratulations to Lige Harris who did an outstanding job of reading the wind as his scores show. Check out the pics of his targets below, keep in mind that the X ring is 6 inches in diameter and the 10 ring is 12 inches in diameter. These were shot at 600 yards!

It Is Almost Time To Renew Your Zia Membership!

It is almost that time! Zia membership renewals start in January. Renewal applications will sent out with your newsletter beginning in January. Or you will be able to get them from the web site. For new members, and not so new, there are a few items to keep in mind.

The membership term is April 1, 2023 - March 31, 2024. Do not use last year's renewal form. Check the date on the top of the form. The new form for the coming year will be enclosed in your newsletter. It will be available at the web site in January.

You must mail in your renewal and payment, either check or money order. Even though you can get the renewal application off the web site and fill it in there, you cannot email it in. And Zia is not yet set up to receive credit card payments.(We are working on that...I promise!)

Even if you just joined Zia in October, you have to renew for the coming year.

If you renew after April 30th you will pay a $35.00 late fee. If you have not renewed by May 1st, your gate key will be deactivated. Once your renewal application and payment is received, your key will be reactivated.

You and your associate are required to do the test. Think of it as a little refresher course on range safety and club procedures. Just do it.

You must sign the waiver. And your associate, if you have one, must sign as well. It will be returned to you if it is not signed.

Do not forget to enclose the self addressed stamped envelope so that we may return your new membership card to you.

A few suggestions that will make this process go a lot smoother!

- Check or money order please. We are not yet able to accept credit cards. (We are working on it!)
- Yes, you must include a self addressed stamped (one stamp) envelope. That way we can mail your membership card back to you.
- Your application must be signed by the Primary Member and the Associate.
- Don't forget your proof of NRA membership. Just write your NRA membership number and expiration date on the renewal form. No need to send in a copy of your NRA membership card.
- Associate Members must submit a test and sign the renewal application.
- Make sure and put the proper postage on your envelope or it will be returned to you. If you send in your renewal in an oversized envelope, if you print out your renewal on a heavier paper, sending in two tests, all those things require additional postage.
- The mailing address for membership renewal is:

Zia Membership

PO Box 16

Cedar Crest, NM 87008

Please Read!

Do Not send it to PO Box 27254.

If you have any suggestions pertaining to the membership renewal process, send me an email:

PS: To those who have sent me stamps to make up for others that do not include a SASE, thank you! It is very much appreciated!

Defending the Right to Arms

Despite the multitude of explicitly political messages sent in the past few months, there's a secret behind the curtain. We don't think focusing on politics is a great use of time. It's necessary, especially when there's a number of political attacks explicitly targeted at our rights, but it is not high-value time spent.

Don't let that discourage you from participating in the political process. It's necessary. Our relentless emails, calls, and testimony were essential to minimizing the damage done this year, and we'll need to mobilize again next year, or if the governor calls a special session, or if the federal government starts aggressively pushing some extreme gun control agenda.

The issue with focusing on politics is that politics, by its nature, is a polluted morass. Occasionally, something good for us may come out of Santa Fe or Washington, but it's the exception, not the rule. Even if we poured millions of dollars into lobbying, campaign contributions, or outright buying lawmakers, we'd be shoveling additional fuel into a burn pit, the smoke from which is already choking us all to death. Besides, that kind of money would be much better spent concretely improving our club, our state, or our country.

Where, then, is effort more intelligently spent? Influencing culture.

Culture is the drinkable fresh water upstream of the salty ocean of politics. No realistic amount of fresh water introduced will desalinate the ocean and drinking only seawater will kill in relatively short order. Fresh water can be rendered undrinkable by mixing with seawater, in much the same way we see politics infiltrating and poisoning every aspect of our culture. To get rid of all the excess salt taken in by drinking seawater, one has to urinate more water than one drinks. Eventually, a person drinking seawater dies of dehydration even as they become thirstier. Likewise, omnipresent political division will poison culture until the spirit of a nation withers and dies. We must support our culture, advocate for our culture, and protect our culture.

There are, presently, two distinct issues confronting us with our political activity to defend and assert our rights. First, we are not well coordinated, both as advocates on political issues and insofar as we fail to align our lesser political and greater extrapolitical activities, that is, all other social and human activities apart from politics. Second, we suffer from a lack of unity in spirit, which is indispensable to people surrounded on all sides by enemies who will try to take advantage of any internal dissension. We will address these both, and will also make the argument throughout for aggressive and unified action on our rights, specifically influenced by the fact that an armed people are the only type who can truly claim and maintain their freedom.

Part I: With an Understanding of Recent History

In the 1990s, gun rights activism felt like a losing battle. There was a federal assault weapons ban, where every "evil feature" and "shoulder thing that goes up" restricted our ability to own long guns. Machine guns had recently had their market capped, presumably forever. Many states simply didn't allow carry of guns in public at all, much less a concealed weapon, and even where you could get a permit, it was a hellish process. The media, backed up by big Brady-type money, was pushing a relentless culture war against gun ownership and winning. Politicians and lobbying organizations that were quick to trumpet their gun rights positions were just as quick to compromise. As we all know, "compromise" on guns has its own distinct meaning, well divorced from the normal definition - it means that anti-rights zealots demand everything and get some of it, while we get nothing except a warning that they'll come after the rest next time. The ATF could entrap a poor man into cutting a shotgun barrel half an inch too short, and punish him by having shot dead his dog, his son, and his wife, the last because she was armed with an infant, and nobody would care. The ATF could also, in the wake of that calamity, justify its existence by botching an uncaringly misinformed and politically motivated raid on an FFL so badly that the FBI would redeem that botch by once again killing women and children, with the wrinkle that this time they were burned alive on national television, and, again, no one seemed to care. The government was coming for our guns and we all knew it, so what was the point? Hunker down, be defensive, lose your guns in that "boating accident", and definitely don't engage in public advocacy for gun rights, you'll only paint a target on your back.

But things began to change. State organizations began to make legal and legislative gains. Lawsuits were filed on the state and federal level and started to be won. The internet made coordinating between gun rights activists and regular gun owners simpler. As a result, gun culture started to become less insular, less defensive, more open, and more assertive about our rights. Elected officials started hearing from an increasingly large number of voters who were tired of having their rights stripped away and being told over and over in the media that they were bad people because some stranger they had never met and had nothing to do with had done something wrong. We saw this year how effective that type of pressure is.

When the federal assault weapons ban sunset in 2004 (because the government couldn't show that it had done a thing to reduce crime, despite their best efforts to show just that), huge numbers of Americans ran out to buy the guns we had been told we couldn't have for a decade, and millions of people very quickly discovered that those guns were great. The AR, once a niche for firearms connoisseurs, became the most common type of rifle in the country in short order. In 2008, the Supreme Court put gun controllers on notice that yes, the Second Amendment means what it says. Armed with Heller, gun rights activists began to sue states and local jurisdictions and win. Concealed carry became increasingly normal, with laws liberalizing around the country, as you can see here. At the time of writing, over half the country has Constitutional Carry Laws on the books. As public carry of guns became more common, the histrionic shrieking that people carrying guns in public would lead to Wild West shootouts over parking spaces became an obvious lie and the type of person who frets that "if we pass these laws I might be next to someone carrying a gun in the supermarket" became increasingly concentrated in certain areas of the country. The difference in safety between gun-friendly and gun-hostile jurisdictions became increasingly obvious - the Wild West would be a huge step up in safety for residents of Detroit or Baltimore.

As this was happening, and starting around Hurricane Katrina, the government started and has since kept demonstrating to all of us that when bad things were happening and Americans were in danger, we probably couldn't count on the state or the federal government to actually help. Each time law enforcement stood by and let criminals burn, loot, and murder, that created new gun owners. There aren't many better motivators for procuring and holding on to the tools to take care of ourselves than being left to twist in the wind despite all our tax dollars at work.

Then last year we got Bruen. Once again, the Second Amendment means what it says, and this time the court really means it, so stop trying to dodge. Gun controllers are frothing over the matter - how dare the right to be armed not be treated in a second-class manner! Unfortunately for them, the horse has fled the barn and they haven't realized that gun control is a dead letter. The idea was already on life support with the expansion of consumer-grade milling machinery, and now we have additive manufacturing (3D printing) technology. At the time of writing, there are rebels against Myanmar's military junta conducting operations armed with printed FGC-9s (yes, that's the "Fuck Gun Control - 9mm" - they take Glock mags, which you can print bodies and followers for about a dollar each, then it's just add a spring). The internet exists, which makes controlling information on how to print an FGC-9 yourself, or take sheet metal and make a fully automatic Lutu submachine gun for about 150 bucks in an afternoon, or turn out AR lower receivers like it's going out of style impossible.

We've also seen authoritarianism rear its head around the world again. Where we thought we had slain the idea with the fall of the Soviet Union, its sympathizers never went away. We saw with COVID what governments around the world, including so-called liberal democracies, were willing to do to their people. In China, where they make no pretenses about being authoritarians, they welded people into their apartments to starve. In Australia, people were sent to quarantine camps. In Canada, noncompliance would cost people millions. In the UK, people were arrested for spreading "misinformation" that the government would later admit to be true. In the US, national authorities had to tread more lightly, despite their publicly professed desires to wield similarly naked exercises of power. It's become increasingly obvious that there exists a transnational elite that want to create a world where they are in charge and the rest of humanity are serfs - and this isn't a left wing/right wing issue, it's those of us who want to be left alone to live free lives against those who would control the lives, money, living situations, and even our thoughts of everyone else. They're willing to admit it. It's openly available as they take private jets to conferences in Davos or Fiji or some other resort location, where private security partners with local police seconded to protect these events, then stream their talks and working groups on the internet for the world to see. One of the major obstacles to their plans is the pesky notion that people can disagree with this new, corporatist, utopian future.

In countries where the populace is disarmed, handling disagreement is simple - there is no fear of the governed by their rulers. It's often misattributed to Jefferson, but appears to have been said in 1914 in a series of debates on socialism that, "where the people fear the government you have tyranny; where the government fears the people you have liberty." Make no mistake, those who would have us fear the government are terrified that we are armed, because in our place they would use those arms to forcibly deprive us of rights and sweep our corpses into the dustbin of history. They cannot understand the ability to be armed and peaceful, because their impulse is to control by force.

Gun culture has recognized this. The Firearms Policy Coalition sells this shirt which neatly sums up the change in attitude. Instead of joking about boating accidents in a wink-wink manner, the real answer's simple. "I didn't lose a thing, I'm not giving up my liberty, come and get the guns if you want them that badly." Because of this shift, the speed at which gun grabbers have to boil the frog has slowed down significantly, and, increasingly, frogs are jumping out of pots. These attacks on the right to arms are part of a larger and intentional degradation of the American spirit and a world where we can create and enjoy maximum human freedom. The rats gnawing at the base of the tree of liberty are terrified that the people they seek to rule are able to, as a matter of simple fact, make them stop at any moment - not ask, make, and refresh the tree with these would-be tyrants' blood, its natural manure. That one's correctly attributable to Jefferson.
